Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a communication system and a communication method. More particularly, the present invention relates to a communication system and a communication method that can improve the response speed and the through-put of the communication system. 2. Description of the Related Art In the conventional communication system, when a management terminal is to be connected to a communication terminal, the management terminal has previously notified the communication terminal of a communication method and a communication standard to be used for the connection to the management terminal. Furthermore, when the management terminal and the communication terminal receive a request for connection from the management terminal, the management terminal determines the communication method and the communication standard to be used for the connection based on the result of the inquiry. In the conventional communication system, the communication method and the communication standard to be used for the connection between the management terminal and the communication terminal are determined, for example, based on the result of the inquiry. Thus, in the conventional communication system, the communication method and the communication standard to be used for the connection between the management terminal and the communication terminal cannot be efficiently determined. The present invention relates to a planar type display which can be manufactured on a flat substrate using the surface-emission type electron emission elements, and a method for manufacturing the planar type display. Recently, attention has been paid to a display having an electron emission element array as a display panel. The electron emission element array is a display that is driven by electron emission elements arranged in a two-dimensional matrix. Examples of the electron emission elements are Spindt type and planar type. Spindt type electron emission elements each have a construction in which a fine electrically conductive layer (electron emission layer) is arranged between an emitter electrode and a gate electrode. When the emitter electrode and the gate electrode are applied with voltages, electrons are emitted from the electron emission layer.
